

Snapshots of Carolina

What's your Carolina Snapshot? Every day, in a multitude of ways, Carolina students demonstrate their engagement, leadership, and creativity. Being a Tar Heel can mean anything from wearing Carolina Blue to drinking from the Old Well to working in a community garden to doing research in a foreign country.

Submit your photos of campus life at Carolina by tagging your public Twitter or Instagram photos with #carolinasnapshots. The Carolina Union wants to put your photos on display in the Art Gallery to provide a snapshot of Carolina to all incoming students, parents and families, and other members of the University community.

Guidelines:

- Participation is open to all members of the University community.
- To submit a photo/photos, post with your public Twitter or Instagram account and tag #carolinasnapshots.
- Only posts from public Twitter and Instagram accounts can be accessed for the exhibit.
- You may submit photos from the 2015-2016 academic year and/or current photos.
- Photos with offensive or inappropriate content will be deleted.
- By submitting your photo, you agree to allow the Carolina Union to share your photo via social media accounts, website, and to include the photo in the exhibit.
- There is no limit to the number of photos you may submit.

This program is co-sponsored by the Carolina Union and the Carolina Union Activities Board.
