Carolina Union and Community Service

The staff in the Carolina Union have been participating in a program called JEDI which stands for Justice, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion.

This program was created by Dr. Bobby Kunstman, Director of Student Life and Leadership. It was created in response to the racial unrest during the summer of 2020. This past year, the Carolina Union staff participated in committees around JEDI. One of the committees focused on community service. The goal of this committee was to incorporate community service as part of the All-Staff Retreat. This year, the All-Staff Retreat was with...

Observing Juneteenth

On Sunday, June 19th, our country will be observing Juneteenth. President Biden signed legislation last year making Juneteenth a federal holiday. Juneteenth commemorates the official ending of slavery in the United States. African Americans have been celebrating Juneteenth since the late 1800s.

The New York Times published an article entitled Juneteenth: The history of a New Holiday written by Derrick Bryson Taylor. The article provides a brief guide about Juneteenth highlighting how it began, how it is celebrated, the path to the day becoming a national holiday and...

Many of the Carolina Union staff came together on June 9th and June 10th to paint the Rainbow Flag on the CUBES. The Rainbow Flag is a symbol for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer pride. Staff came together to paint the flag in honor of Pride Month. Below are pictures of staff painting the Rainbow Flag.
