Workshop 4: Mapping Your Values

If someone were to ask you what your top 5 values in life were, would you be able to answer them? As leaders, it is critical that we continuously reflect on who we are and what we are about in order to never lose track of our why and to inspire others in the process. This LEAD DIY focuses in on providing you with the language necessary to better articulate your values and incorporate them in to your leadership styles and philosophy.
